1987 WAS a year which saw Britain take several steps further down the road towards being a police state. So it was predictable, though sad, that it ended with two official decisions which make it clear that the police are fast coming to be considered "above the law."

First, it was announced that no action is to be taken against two senior Scotland Yard officers who authorized a surveillance operation against a BBC journalist who was investigating allegations of police corruption.

The two officers heard that Mr Andrew Jennings was researching the problem of police corruption. Their response was to divert one of Scotland Yard's top surveillance teams from their proper job of fighting crime, and their usual job of keeping a watch on political "subversives" and to get them to spy on Mr Jennings. As a result he was kept under constant surveillance for two months back in 1985.

The decision to take no action over this scandalous defence of "bent" coppers and the shocking waste of taxpayers' money which it involved, was taken by the new Metropolitan Police Commissioner, Peter Imbert.

VICIOUS

The following day, just before Christmas, the Director of Public Prosecutions ruled that a vicious and unprovoked assault by a police officer on an innocent man is too trivial to go to court.

The victim, 58 year old Mr Owen Gape, was a police officer for 26 years, but has been retired since the 1970's. As part of his job as an insurance claims investigator, he was sitting in his car in a street in Middlesex watching a house on 17th July. A police car appeared and a PC and a tall and very heavily built WPC got out and came up to him. After a brief exchange in which Mr Gape explained what he was doing there, the WPC became abusive and told him to get out of the car.

"I refused; it was raining. Then she lost her temper completely. She thrust her right arm through the window and grabbed my shirt and jumper shouting: 'When I tell you to get out of the ing car, you'll get out of the ing car.'

DRAUGED

The two officers then dragged Mr Gape out by his hair. As he fell out of the car, the WPC stamped on his hand and kept her foot on it. The contents of the car were thrown on the wet road while the PC tried to force open the boot. Damage to the boot lock and door handle cost nearly £100 to repair. After Mr Gape had opened the boot and that too had been ransacked, the two officers got into their car and drove off.

Mr Gape had offered no resistance throughout his ordeal. His explanation for this makes it clear that the incident was not an isolated instance, but rather usual police procedure which merely went slightly further than normal.

"As a former police officer myself, I knew they wanted me to retaliate, then I would have been nicked. I knew I dare not swear or lift a finger. If I had done so, any injuries I received would have been claimed as caused by resisting arrest and I would have been charged with assaulting them."

After the assault, Mr Gape recovered his belongings from the wet and dirty pavement and drove to a hospital. "The fingers on my right hand were bleeding and there was blood all over my shirt. My hand was very painful and I had a severe chest pain."

Mr Gape contacted Scotland Yard's Complaints Investigation Bureau to make an official complaint, and was examined by a police surgeon and interviewed by officers from the complaints unit. They promised to keep him "in touch with progress."

MONTHS LATER

When he had heard nothing from them two months later, Mr Gape telephoned and was told that the papers were with the Director of Public Pros-

A Good Year

1987 HAS BEEN a year of steady organizational consolidation and progress in many areas for the National Front. Few of the changes are of critical importance in themselves, but taken together they present a heartening picture of improvement and a sense of direction.

The most obvious advances have been in our publicity material. Regular readers will not need reminding of the great steps forward in quality and frequency taken by NF News over the last year, as our computerization programme has continued apace.

The improved paper has spearheaded two major campaigns in the last six months, each one having its own hard-hitting leaflets and posters. The "Don't Vote" campaign was the first public call for true participatory democracy in Britain since Hilaire Belloc and Cecil Chesterton slammed the parliamentary hoax before the First World War. And the Race campaign, with two waves of recruitment material - supporting Black separatists and opposing futile racial attacks - has begun a major shift and improvement in the NF's image, as well as driving our Zionist opponents to hysterical terror and paranoia.

MATURITY

The continuing NF call for independence for Ulster, together with the change in our masthead to highlight our commitment to the idea of a federation of the British Nations, as opposed to centralized Westminster tyranny, reflects the National Front's rejection of British imperialism in favour of the rights and advantages of small nations. Once again, this is an aspect of Nationalism in this country which has been buried under immature jingoism since the days of William Morris and the pro-Boer stance of the Chestertons during the Boer war. Its long overdue re-appearance is a clear sign of the growing ideological maturity of our Movement.

Less publicly, there has been enormous financial progress. The massive debts, which threatened to bankrupt the NF little more than two years ago, have been drastically reduced. We are on target for the elimination of all external debts during the coming year. This will make the NF truly solvent for the first time since 1976, when the debts we have been clearing began to mount up.

The financial position of our local units is also being transformed through involvement in the Distributist League. This sweeping decentralization of economic responsibility and power through the Movement has already given the National Front a greater range of fund-raising merchandise than at any stage in our history.

CAMPAIGNING ABILITIES

Now this increase in the economic power of the units is beginning to be followed by growing local political and campaigning abilities. The number of units supplementing national campaigns with publicity material and activities on local issues is still too low, but it is growing slowly. The acquisition of Community Action experience and of the means of production of local literature are trends which must be encouraged in 1988.

Such wide ranging advances are particularly pleasing because they have been made in spite of a background of factional attacks on the National Front, which in the past would have diverted the Movement into short term gimmicks and cheap, but futile, publicity stunts. That this has not happened is a tribute to the far sightedness of the national and local leadership, and to the discipline and political maturity of the rank and file.

These are the qualities which guarantee continued progress in 1988. We hope that you will be part of the National Front's winning team.

IMPORTANT NOTICE. The National Front is continually subject to interference with the post going to and from its main offices. In order to minimize the disruption this State action causes, you are asked to hand in correspondence for every NF operation whenever possible.

If you do have to use the Post Office, always use Recorded Delivery and keep your receipt safely.

DEAR EDITOR

Familiar?

Dear Sirs,

I have just been reading about the National Front Remembrance Day Parade being banned by the police. I am a member of the Salvation Army, which is non-political, though we would disagree with you on a few points.

However, we have something in common in as much as we too suffered a ban that day. The IBA decided at the last minute to withdraw a film they had agreed to show on the grounds that it showed us in "too favourable a light". Does such a media blackout seem familiar? It seems also that the authorities did not want the public to see the REAL National Front; a well-ordered column of people paying their respects to the War Dead.

We are surely fighting a common enemy. "For we fight not against powers and principalities, but against spiritual darkness in high places."

Yours sincerely,
A Salvationist,
Yorkshire.

Massacre

Dear Sir,

As a loyalist prisoner and National Front supporter, I feel your readers would be interested in my view of the Poppy Day Massacre and republican terrorism in general.

My first reaction to the news of the bomb and the casualties was one of anger and despair. Anger towards the murdering scum who carried out this act and despair that, despite widespread condemnation of the act, nothing concrete would be done to halt such terrorism.

Surely 17 years of death and destruction have proved that the British Government are either unable or unwilling to tackle the problem. After events such as Warrenpoint, La Mon and Droppin Well, there were words of condemnation and sympathy but no action; I fear the same will be true of Enniskillen 1987.

It remains to be seen whether their latest atrocity will spur Ulstermen to take the initiative; for the sake of our children I hope it will. The poor quality of our political leadership must share some of the blame for the situation. Let them now stand aside, their fighting talk has not been matched by deeds. The only way to beat republican terrorism is to take the war to them. It is time the Ulster people realized this, and did something about it. And the best place to start is to go for Independence.

Yours sincerely,
NF Supporter,
Maze Prison,
Lisburn.

EDITORS'S NOTE: We have had a number of people suggest something on these lines, but it will be obvious that space in NF News is always at a premium. However, the Directorate is considering the production of a leaflet, outlining our general position, and containing membership/subscription forms, which will be handed to each street purchaser.

Leaflet

Dear Sir,

With regard to your request for ideas. I think the recent Farrakhan leaflet, featuring Mr Farrakhan on one side and a White girl on the other, was very intelligent.

But what I would like to see is the same leaflet with a sticky back - something similar to stickers. I attend college twice a week, so it gives me plenty of opportunities to get around leaving our material about the place. Unfortunately, it is often got at before anyone can read it - all except the stickers that is. The Reds go into a rage trying to rid the building of them! It is fun to see, but there is not enough of a message in such stickers, at least for a college. Therefore, a Farrakhan leaflet stuck in the right place, defying all attempts to be removed, would do just the job.

Yours sincerely,
R.D.C.,
Newcastle upon Tyne.

Balance

Dear Editor,

Although the clear print and quality of paper used for NF News continues to be of a high standard, I feel that recent issues have not been substantial enough with too many adverts and photographs and too little reading matter. Perhaps the balance could be redressed by using just one of the many interesting articles from Nationalism Today in each issue and scaling down the Front line Action page which is of little interest to non-activists.

After all, NF News is the standard bearer for the Movement to the general public, and I think this is something I don't think we should lose sight of. In addition to "beefing up" the reading the 'new' article could act as an advert for NT by advising readers that this and similar in depth articles are found in our sister publication.

I'm sure the membership would not mind this duplication in the interest of making NF News more interesting and informative to the man in the street.

Nevertheless, keep up the good work!

Yours sincerely,
D.B.,
Blackpool Unit.

This makes it the only real alternative to the unholy alliance of capitalist media bosses and communist hack journalists which dominates the "British" press. If you want to read the truth about what is going on in Britain today, you'll only find it in NF News.

This is why capitalist newsagents chains refuse to stock it, and why Marxist thugs and the Tory-controlled police often try to stop NF News from being sold on the streets. RIPPING YARNS

It has come to the attention of the National Directorate that a magazine entitled Blood & Honour has published false and malicious allegations against leading members of the National Front, and has declared its support for Nazi ideals. The magazine is published by Ian Stuart Donaldson – aka 'Ian Stuart' – a former member of the NF and vocalist of the former White Noise band Skrewdriver.

It may be that Mr Stuart thought that because of the fact that he has had up until now some popularity amongst sections of Nationalist youth, the leadership of the NF would not answer his attacks on the NF. In this he was grossly mistaken. We did not wish to wash his dirty laundry in public, hence our silence of the last 6 months. However, his public attacks on the NF can not be left unanswered.

The main allegation held against the Movement is that it has "ripped off" Mr Stuart. Nothing could be further from the truth. Up until now we have not made this public because we have learned that during the time he was receiving money for running White Noise he was getting money from the DHSS and his rent from Camden Council. Advertisements were also placed free of charge in all NF journals for Stuart's private business Skrewdriver Services. All profits from this business went directly to Stuart. Mr Stuart is the registered owner of the Post Box from which the business is operated.

In addition to the money he received from the White Noise Club, he also received £300 in cash the morning he was released from prison from one of the NF administration staff; this money was drawn out of an Anglia Building Society account the same morning, and which had been opened for him so that the NF could show its appreciation for his efforts in a practical way. Furthermore, Mr Stuart was also bought a £400 guitar in London by the NF by way of payment for his services. As if this were not enough Stuart was also receiving royalties for two albums he made on the Rock-O-Rama record label, these being Blood & Honour and Hail the New Dawn. Despite attempts by Mr Stuart to confuse the issue, it is obvious to anyone who thinks about it that the NF could NOT have "ripped off" Mr Stuart in respect of his royalties as his deal was with Rock-O-Rama Records and NOT the NF! Royalties are paid direct by Rock-O-Rama to their bands.

Mr Stuart has also made vile allegations against two leading members of the National Directorate, Derek Holland and Patrick Harrington. Stuart's real complaint against these two officers is that they told him exactly what they thought of his reactionary Nazi views, and his constant cry of "I want more". They insisted on putting the NF first and objected having to massage the ego of an ageing would be rock star. They told Stuart in no uncertain terms that they and many other members worked voluntarily for White Noise to promote the views of the NF and to make the NF money. They also pointed out that it was essential that a number of White Noise bands – in particular BRUTAL ATTACK and SKULLHEAD – had to be built up so as to widen the base of the White Noise Club. Mr Stuart did not take kindly to this interest in promoting other bands; the reason for this should be obvious to readers.

For those who may have been taken in by Stuart's lie that we have "ripped off" Rock-O-Rama Records, we ask you to consider this point: if we owed this company money do you think they would allow us to have stocks of the new SKULLHEAD album White Warriors? The National Directorate, therefore, wishes it to be known that an attack on its officers is considered to be an attack on the NF itself.

For these reasons the Directorate has proscribed Blood & Honour. It is a disciplinary offence for any NF member to support this publication in any way. The National Directorate also issue the following binding directive:

"All stocks of merchandise bearing the name Skrewdriver are to be sold off as quickly as possible. In order to ensure that this happens, prices on all such stock are to be reduced by 20%. The Directorate will contact all units to advise them on this matter. No new merchandise is to be produced bearing the name Skrewdriver. All the resources of the NF are to be thrown behind SKULLHEAD and other bands of proven loyalty and ideological soundness."

Thematic Questions

The Political Soldier

The E & T Department has requested that the Questions relating to books to be read by cadres and candidate cadres appear in this column over the next couple of issues of the paper. The answers will be appearing shortly in booklet form. Those intending to apply for this status in the Movement can begin their preparation now.

1. In Chapter 1 the material decline of Britain is described. What things does the author point to as evidence of social decay? Is what he wrote still true? If yes, why? If not, why?
2. In the same chapter the author calls for a material and spiritual balance. What does he say the results of this balance were in the past? What does he say that this absence of balance has produced in the modern world?
3. What does the author say in Chapter 2 was the fundamental failure of the nationalist movement in the 1970s? Has the NF taken any corrective measures?
4. Give examples of the heroes to which the author draws our attention? Do you think that all of his examples are acceptable? If yes, why? If no, why?
5. What sort of words, according to the author, express the very meaning of Life? Take any two of these words and explain how the author discussed them? Did he go too far, or not far enough? Why do you say this?
6. The author says that the Political Soldier in combat must be an example to others. What does he mean?
7. What does the author say about

12. Name the Four Virtues that the Political Soldier needs in the struggle, and explain why they are needed?
13. What positive practical task have you undertaken as a result of reading this booklet? If none: what are you going to do about this?
14. If you have any specific comments on the booklet, please send them to: The Education & Training Department, P.O. Box 57, Romford, Essex, RM7.

WHAT IS TO BE DONE?

THIS COLUMN is specially designed to keep all NF officials well informed of forthcoming activities and to remind them of what needs to be done over the next two weeks.

All NF officials and activists must therefore make it a top priority to read this column carefully each issue, and then to act on the information.

DISTRIBUTIST LEAGUE. There are still a number of units who have not yet joined the League. The number of such units is diminishing, with 3 more units joining in the last month, but our target is 100% membership. The financial advantages of membership should be obvious, so will offending units please ensure that Administration is made aware of your intentions over the next 4 – 6 weeks. If you need advice on what to undertake, ask! But please remember: do not produce any item of merchandise until you have official Directorate approval.

CADRES/CANDIDATES. The payment of dues on a month by month basis has proven to be extremely bureaucratic in 1987, so the Directorate has approved three methods of payment for 1988 which will ease the problems of the Administration staff and not prove a burden to comrades. Each of you may choose one of the following methods:

1. Payment of one year's dues in a lump sum. Cheques or cash acceptable.
2. Payment on a monthly basis BUT only if it is by Standing Order.
3. Payment on a quarterly basis. This can be by cash or cheque via a bank, at a cadre conference or via Standing Order. The first quarterly payment will fall due in January 1988 at the Cadre gathering.

RACE. Ensure that Phase Two of the Race campaign gets off to a good start by sending out Press Statements to all of your local papers and radio stations along with samples of the new leaflet and relevant NF News. Keep your eyes peeled to ensure that no opportunity to put over what we believe on this vital subject is missed. Initial reactions indicate that thinking Whites and Blacks are intrigued, while our enemies are very nervous! Give them good reason for their nervousness!

* GET POSTERING. Postering quickly establishes the fact of a powerful and active NF presence. Some units have allowed this activity to slacken off recently, but the dark early evenings make it ideal for this time of year. Blackpool unit still has good stocks (available on lit. runs or through their P.O. Box – 5.50 per 100 incl. postage).

Posters on good sites which get time to dry will have a greatly extended life if they are then sprayed with clear varnish (wot about the ozone layer? – Ed.).

A logical, most sensible and constructive fanatic

MOST PEOPLE who loudly proclaim their readiness to die for their political beliefs are seldom there when the time comes for them to make the ultimate sacrifice. Most Ulster Unionist politicians are like that! Any loyalist leader of any real promise has always been brutally slain by the forces of Republican terrorism. In 1981 the IRA gunned down the Reverend Robert Bradford, a politician whose capacity for leadership posed a real threat to the IRA's imperialism.

In contrast, it would seem that the Provos believe that shooting Molyneux or Paisley would be a waste of time. They know bluffers when they see them.

George Seawright was no bluffer! He recently served a nine month prison sentence for protesting against a visit by Tom King to the Belfast City Hall. This caused him to lose his City Council seat and disqualified him from holding office for five years. He knew that he could become a target but this did not deter him from doing what he thought was right. He once said: "People have called me a fanatic, but when they get to know me they have to concede, even my enemies, that I'm a logical, most sensible and constructive fanatic."

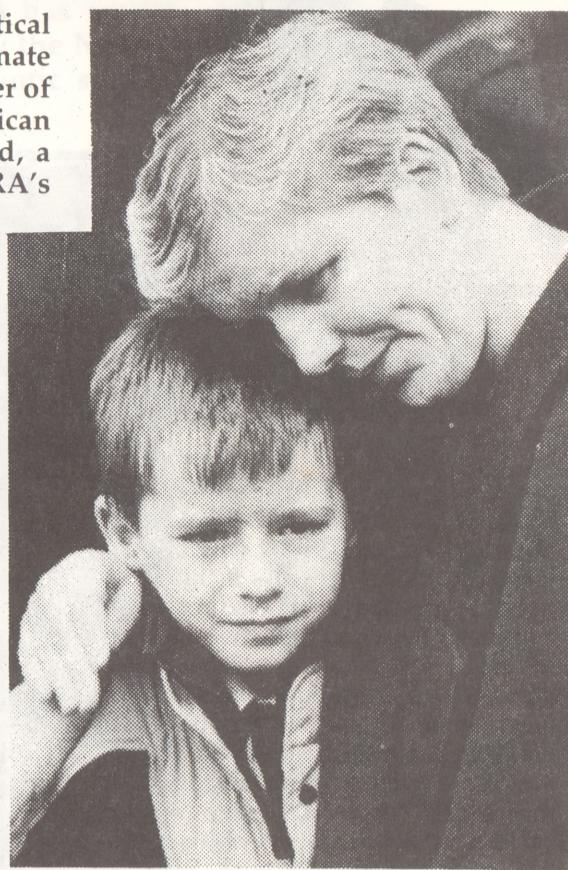

Seawright's willingness to sacrifice all for the cause of Ulster was summed up in the motto of his Ulster Protestant League, Total Commitment. He gave up his life for Ulster hoping that his example might strengthen the resolve of others to continue the fight for a Free Ulster. His martyrdom reminds us that our task will not be easy, but it must be

The chief bluffer, Ian R K Paisley, and his camp followers, who despised Seawright when he was alive, turned up uninvited at his funeral. Paisley even helped to carry the coffin, yet belittled Seawright in a radio interview afterwards, claiming that the victim was merely one of many and it could have been anyone in the coffin. The Seawright family were too upset and grief stricken to protest at this despicable action.

The Unionist newspaper, The Newsletter, refused to accept a death notice from the NF's National Directorate and Central Ulster Executive unless the words "murdered by the enemies of freedom" and "From sacrifice

THE BRUTAL murder of John McMichael, political spokesman for the legal loyalist paramilitary Ulster Defence Association, exposed the IRA as the sectarian bigots who have done more than anyone else to stir up division and hatred in Northern Ireland.

It also showed them up as cowards. How else can you explain the killers' decision to plant a booby trap bomb in his car outside his house, where it could easily have killed his young wife and baby son, rather than confront their unarmed victim face to face?

John McMichael was widely known as a very able political analyst and as the driving force within the UDA's study group, the New Ulster Political Research Group. In direct contrast to the media image of "extreme" loyalism, he had for years been working for reconciliation between Catholics and Protestants and for a political solution to the Troubles.

Most noteworthy in this regard were the two policy booklets, spaced over several years, Beyond the Religious Divide and Commonsense, with its call for a radical reappraisal of attitudes on both sides of the Ulster conflict.

This was welcomed as constructive and genuine by the overwhelmingly Catholic SDLP, and even by sections of Provisional Sinn Fein. It was in turn attacked by bigots in the 'Democratic' Unionist Party, as it recommended a place in a Stormont parliament for Catholics.

COURAGE

There is no doubt that it took courage for a man near the top of the largest loyalist paramilitary to put forward constructive suggestions which could offer long-term hope of peace, rather than simply going along with the simple but unworkable solutions of the dead end sectarian mentality with which some of its supporters would probably have felt more at home.

Mr McMichael also played a leading role in developing the UDA's support for some kind of independence for Ulster, and in promoting a study of the country's ancient culture and history as a way of building a non-sectarian focus of loyalty for all the citizens of the future New Ulster.

While these aims coincide with those of the National Front, Mr McMichael and the NF disagreed in other areas, in particular over his commitment to the ideas of classical liberalism, which coloured his proposals for constitutional as well as economic structures in the new state. But he was always willing to discuss such differences in a civilized way. Those who knew him will always respect his memory. His death was a sad blow to Ulster and her friends around the

IRA MARXISTS

The murder of a man who had done more than any other to move militant loyalists towards an understanding that ordinary Catholics must not be penalized for the activities of a handful of Marxist/Fenian hoodlums, showed how desperate the IRA are to foster sectarian hatred. Like the Remembrance Day massacre five weeks earlier, its sole purpose was to provoke a loyalist backlash against innocent Catholics, in the hope that they would then turn to the IRA for "protection."

The IRA are not interested in peace or in freedom for ordinary people. If they struck purely at military targets, they could claim to be freedom fighters, although we would still regard them as Irish imperialists.

But they do not. They prefer to blow up Boys' Brigade bands and to murder men who are trying to heal the divisions of centuries. They are terrorists, who strike at ordinary people because they have no regard for them at all. No-one motivated by love of the people would seek to persuade them by killing them. But Marxists like the IRA are not motivated by any such love. They are driven to kill and maim by lust for power — the power to impose a Communist dictatorship on another suffering nation.

The Catholic church must do everything in its power to make this understood amongst its flock. And loyalists from both sides of the religious divide must work to replace the kid-gloves rule of Westminster with the non-sectarian government of an independent Ulster, which would protect the innocent and do what John McMichael called for: "Terrorize the Terrorists."

WORLD AFFAIRS

Black P.O.W.E.R. in North America

THE BLACK MUSLIM LEADER
Louis Farrakhan, is once again touring America, but along with his call for Black unity and racial separation, is an imaginative plan for Black economic self-sufficiency. Under the company name P.O.W.E.R. (People Organized and Working for Economic Rebirth) the Nation of Islam has produced a line of personal health and household products which will be sold door to door.

As Farrakhan explains, political victories are not enough. Blacks must also have a constituency with financial power. "We must not just have the symbol of politics", he says, "but the substance of economics." Criticizing the so-called successes of the mainstream "Civil Rights Movement" in the U.S.A., Farrakhan feels that in the 100 years since their emancipation from slavery, Blacks have not seen any real social improvement under a White system.

Private enterprise is not new ground for the Black Muslim movement. Under the leadership of Elijah Muhammed, founder of the Nation of Islam, the organization encouraged Blacks to use bakeries and restaurants run by their own people.

NO MIDDLE MEN

The development of Farrakhan's POWER began six years ago under the marketing research of Alphonzia Wellington. Wellington proposed a programme that would put products directly into the hands of customers, thus avoiding expensive and often obstructionist middlemen - who Farrakhan identifies as the Jews.

POWER originally lined up five Black manufacturers, including Johnson Products of Chicago, to supply their goods. However, Farrakhan's unapologetic anti-Zionist stance during the 1984 Presidential elections caused the original suppliers, like George Johnson, to pull out fearing a reputation of "anti-semitism".

But the collapse of Black well to do "moderates" has not hurt POWER.

BANKING ON DESTRUCTION

ECOLOGICAL CATASTROPHE on a devastating scale is threatening the Brazilian Amazon - the world's largest source of oxygen. A massive development programme, financed by the World Bank and the EEC, threatens to turn an area of rain forest the size of Britain and France combined, into a massive industrial white elephant surrounded by fast developing desert.

The Greater Carajas scheme began in 1980 and covers 10% of Brazil, an area of 345,559 square miles. It contains bauxite, copper, nickel, gold and iron ore. The exploitation of this mineral wealth is planned to be combined with hydro-electric dams, forestry, cattle-ranching and heavy industry.

The World Bank hopes that this will generate £10.6 billion worth of exports every year, most of which will go to pay off interest on Brazil's huge debt to the international banks. And the EEC hopes to get half its total iron ore needs at a knock down price.

HORRIFIC

Yet the environmental cost will be horrific. Nine of the region's eleven main industrial plants are to be fueled by charcoal from the destruction of 1.5 million hectares of forest. The cleared land will produce cheap, low quality beef for Western companies like McDonalds for a few years. Then it will be exhausted, and turn into desert. Rapid soil erosion will silt up the massive hydro-electric dams and lead to pollution and devastating floods.

Among the first casualties will be the surviving 13,000 tribal Indians whose constitutional "right" to their own lands is, quite literally, being bulldozed away.

The whole affair is typical of the sort of damage being done to our world by the relentless greed of the international banking system and by its corrupt puppet governments in the Third World. And it shows that the EEC is not a coalition of responsible nations with a set of worthy principles, it is just another super club for the Super Capitalists who see all Nations and Cultures - whether those of Britain and Europe, or of the forests of South America - as irritating obstacles on the road to Super Profits.

Farrakhan has found new manufacturers to support his venture. As he explains "Mr Johnson did us a favour because when he didn't do it (produce POWER products) for us, we had to do it for ourselves."

Starter kits and training manuals are now being sent out to prospective salespeople. Keith Hopps, a 29 year old Muslim and economic consultant who became President of POWER in late 1986, says that the no middlemen distribution method means that salesmen can pocket 40% of the retail price. More than 1,500 salesmen have already signed on.

SELF RELIANCE

Farrakhan defends his commercial involvement by pointing to Marcus Garvey's Black owned steam ship company and other businesses of the 1920s. When Farrakhan started an international POWER promotion tour in Jamaica in December 1985, he placed a wreath on the grave of Marcus Garvey, who is seen as the father of Black self-reliance.

White Nationalists everywhere must applaud the growing rejection of the integration hoax by other races. For the first time in many years, the multiracists are being forced onto the defensive. And since their nightmare vision of a rootless, coffee-coloured human ant heap is indefensible, their final defeat is assured.

Keeping it in the family

The Israeli government is deliberately blocking an investigation by the American authorities into the most active terrorist group operating in the USA. The misnamed Jewish "Defence" League (JDL) is based in New York and has been responsible for two murders and 24 terrorist bombings and other incidents since 1985.

A leaked FBI internal memo states that efforts to prosecute members of the JDL have been hampered by Israel's refusal to follow up leads linking these attacks to Rabbi Meir Kahane and his violently anti-Arab Kach party. And a number of key FBI suspects "have fled the United States and sought asylum in Kiryat Arba," the large Zionist settlement on stolen Arab land on the West Bank. This is described in the document as a "haven for right-wing Jewish extremist elements."

IGNORED

The memo, from FBI assistant director Floyd Clark, also noted that repeated FBI requests for information have been passed to the Israeli secret service, but that they have been ignored.

It should come as no surprise that Israel is protecting terrorists. After all, the majority of the senior figures in the Zionist state are "former" terrorists themselves. They massacred entire Arab villages in 1947; they strangled British soldiers with piano-wire in 1948; they slaughtered civilian refugees in the Lebanon in 1982. So why should they object to blowing up Arab-Americans or American nationalists in 1988?

DISCLAIMER

THE NATIONAL DIRECTORATE wishes to make it clear that The Flag and Vanguard are not National Front publications. They do not reflect NF policy or strategy and do not speak for the National Front.

They are produced by a small clique of reactionaries, crooks and drunks expelled from the movement last year. Officials are reminded that both publications and their editors are proscribed. Members of the public are warned that the National Front cannot be held responsible for money lost on subscriptions to Flag and Vanguard should they cease publication.

STEADY PROGRESS on all fronts! That was the conclusion of a two day strategy conference held in December by the Directorate of the National Front. Just over a year before, a similar meeting had examined the various problems facing the NF. It concluded that the immediate blockages on the long road to power fell into three main categories: financial weakness; lack of frequent and constantly available publicity material for effective campaigns, and an internal structure which was geared to futile efforts for mass support within the parliamentary system, rather than to the needs of a revolutionary movement.

Having identified these problems, that meeting went on to work out ways to begin to overcome them, setting out targets for the improvement of the NF's operation in 1987. The recent conference reviewed the progress – and the failures – and then went on to ask "where do we want to go from here – and how do we get there?"

This special turn of the year feature gives a brief view of the most significant developments of the last year, and of the Movement's plans for 1988.

FINANCIAL STRIDES

From the late 1970's to mid-1980's, the NF ran up debts totalling some £50,000. The separation of the Movement's administrative office from its merchandising and political side at the end of 1985 allowed us to start to turn things around. By the start of last year the debts were halved.

Over the last year, efforts have been concentrated on ridding the Movement of external debts which could be used by various opponents to apply pressure at critical points. These have been steadily cleared throughout the year, thanks to careful use of funds and the use of volunteer labour at every level of operations.

The Movement's central funds received a useful Christmas present when the Directorate banked a cheque for just over £8,000 from the Official Receiver. This was the National Front's share of the money left after the liquidation of 'NF Properties,' the company in charge of the Excalibur House fiasco into which the then leadership dragged the party in the 1970's. With so many debts already cleared, £5,000 was all that was needed to pay off the last pressing debts, leaving £1,000 to buy in money-making stock, and allowing a £2,000 lump sum to be put into the Technology Fund.

With every reason to expect the continued improvement of central income over the coming year, the NF is on target to clear all external debts by December. This will make our Movement truly solvent for the first time since 1976!

DISTRIBUTIST LEAGUE

At the same time as sorting out central finances, a great deal of effort has been put into establishing the Distributist League of NFN Supporters' Units. Some 15 units are now trading, each making money for their own campaigns and asset acquisition, as well as helping to provide the NF with by far the biggest range of merchandise in its whole history.

Inevitably, there were teething problems, particularly with units "treading on each others' toes" and lack of experience on the kind of lines to choose. But the rationalisation work of the last couple of months is sorting this out, and several exciting new ventures are on the way.

BUILDING ROUND THE PAPER

Throughout its history, the NF's campaigns have been handicapped by lack of co-ordination and a driving force. Having a regular, reasonably frequent and well-produced paper to provide the muscle needed to back up leaflets, posters and local activities, is the obvious answer.

Over the last year, priority has therefore been given to improving the quality, size and frequency of NF News. But at the same time, it was decided to produce it on new computer information technology equipment, rather than by old-fashioned typesetting. This was essential in order to pave the way for setting up the full-scale Desk Top Publishing operation discussed on page nine. It meant putting up with poorer technical quality to start with, but the decision to do so has clearly paid off, with steady improvements throughout the year.

DECISION

A similar decision was taken as to the contents of the paper. It has deliberately moved away from simplistic and negative arguments, especially on race, even though they might be more popular with some sections of the public. Our aim is not to provide entertainment and feed Daily Express prejudices. It is to help the Nationalist Movement win intelligent new recruits and to achieve credibility for our ideas.

The wide ranging publicity of the last year – particularly in regional papers and broadcasting media – shows that this is possible. Developing public awareness of our stand on issues such as co-operation with racialists of other colours; independence for Ulster; the NF call for true democracy instead of parliamentary fraud, and our opposition to U.S. bases, has been particularly effective.

For year, various leaders told the NF that "we cannot change the image the media gives us." But this claim owed far more to the need to excuse their own appalling image problems than to reality. The media will always lie about us, but what kind of lies are credible depends to large extent on how the Movement behaves. Our image has changed for the better since the expulsion of the reactionaries and race bigots. This is one of the most heartening developments of the last year.

ORGANIZING FOR SUCCESS

Even when the NF's earlier, haphazard activities recruited new followers, its structure meant that it was rarely possible to get the best out of the good ones, but all too easy for the Movement to suffer the worst from the bad ones. This was because everything was geared to fighting parliamentary elec-

The main category of involvement in the NF is NFN Supporter. These are the people whose contributions and activity give them the right to run local units and to sit on local committees. NFN Supporter status is also an essential stepping stone to being accepted as a Candidate Cadre and earning a say in the direction of the organization nationally.

So while the contributions of FOM's are very important, it is the NFN Supporters who really make things tick. So don't get left out – get involved!

Supporters pledge to pay dues of £4 per month, for which they receive 5 copies of each issue of this paper (usually fortnightly). These they distribute as they wish, but if they sell them they may keep the money to help pay their dues.

Would-be NFN Supporters already in touch with a local unit should pay their dues direct to the treasurer, in return for their membership card, details of activities and papers. Those who are not should fill and send this form.

I agree to pay my dues of £4 per month. I have made my first payment by Post Office Transcash or I will pay by Standing Order and have sent the form on the right to my bank. (Delete as applicable).

My account number is and I enclose herewith a cheque/PO for a further £5 to register and pay for my Activities Starter pack to be sent with my card straight away.

tions and success was measured by counting heads, regardless of whether they contained anything worthwhile.

The last year has seen the first steps in creating an entirely different system, designed to meet the needs of a revolutionary movement rather than a school debating society. There are a number of different levels of involvement in the Movement, so every person interested in helping out can be sure of finding a suitable starting point.

It was always clearly wrong that a raw new recruit with no understanding of the NF's history or strategic and political ends should have as much say in running the Movement as a long-standing activist. The Cadre system now being developed does away with this and a host of related problems. The National Front is still run by its democratically elected Directorate, but the right to vote in Directorate elections is only given to the Cadres – people who earn it through their unusually high commitment and their grasp of Nationalist ideology.

CENTRAL TASK

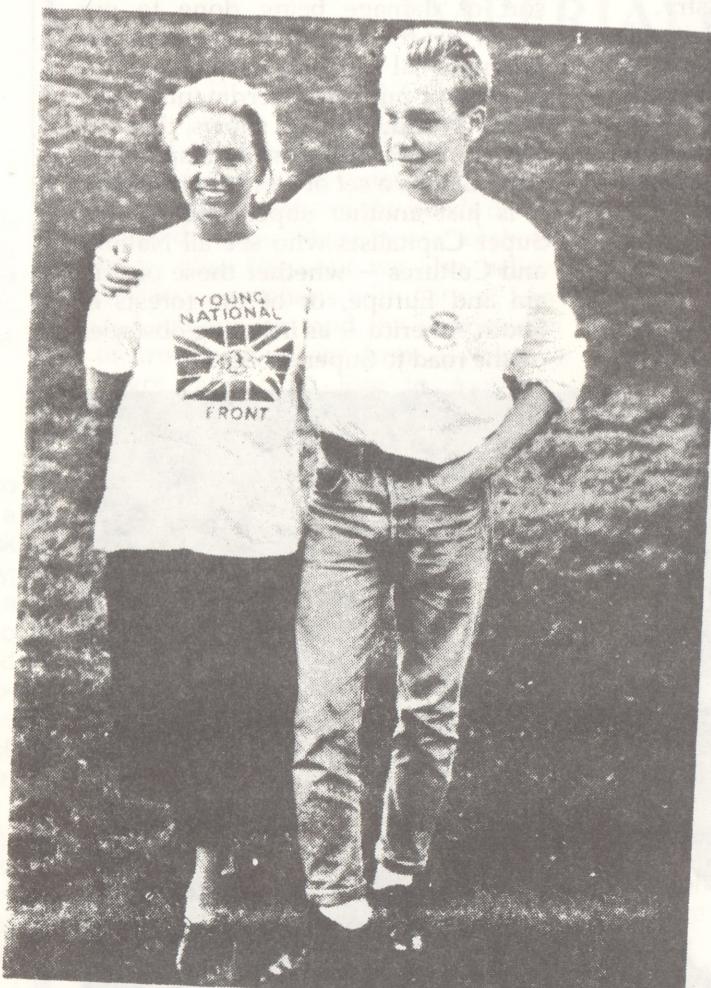

At a local level, the NF is organized in NFN Supporters' Units, whose central task is to distribute the paper and provide the grass roots coverage needed for recruitment and influence. NFN Supporters pay monthly dues to their unit. In return, they have the right to vote and sit on the unit committee, and are given ten papers per month to distribute – over and above their normal unit work.

It is only possible to apply to become a Cadre after at least one year as an NFN Supporter. The applicant has to be proposed by two existing cadres and becomes a Candidate Cadre, fulfilling all the duties of a Cadre, but not having the right to vote unless he or she has earned it over a trial year. Watching over their progress and recommending acceptance or rejection at the end of the year is the most important job of the Regional Political Officer.

But there is no point building such an elite group if it is isolated from everyone else and lacks the manpower and resources to organize into an effective political fighting machine. Like a fish, the cadre needs a pool of support in which to swim. That essential pool is provided by the Friends of the Movement – FOM's.

IMPORTANT

Anyone can join as a FOM by paying the £10 a year flat rate. This helps their local unit and central funds. In return they receive an FOM membership card, merchandise lists and occasional bulletins, and the right to attend meetings and activities of the local unit. It is a very important category of involvement, providing a 'home' for those unable for whatever reason to go further, as well as being the first point of contact for many people who could go on to become key officials in the future.

It has taken just over a year to get the bare bones of this structure worked out and into operation. The resulting improvements are already noticeable, but putting some real meat on it, especially in the area of political education, is an urgent priority for the coming year.

Many of the details of the National Front's plans for 1988 and beyond must be kept private for now. But the Movement's aims can be summarized under four main headings. The NF must strive to have AN EFFECTIVE VOICE, and to be RICH, GROWING and POPULAR.

TIME TO MOVE AHEAD

THE TARGETS set out here will not bring instant or spectacular success. But taken together, these improvements will be a significant advance for the Nationalist Movement and help us to build on the successes of 1987.

The National Front already has a far more efficient structure and more sophisticated political operation than at any time in its history. This includes the artificial bubble of support created in the mid-1970's by media coverage of racial issues and an uncoordinated opposition. It is a sad fact of history that weak leadership and lack of organization left the NF unable to make long-term gains during that period.

The work being done now will ensure that such an opportunity will not be missed when it arises again.

AN EFFECTIVE VOICE

The progress of our publicity machine must continue. The extra speed, flexibility and independence which will come with the completion of our move to Desk Top Publishing (see Technology Fund Appeal) make this a top priority.

Efforts must then be directed to building the circulation of the paper, in particular to those sections of the population with the most chance of becoming worthwhile recruits.

TO BE RICH

In order to expand paper sales and NF influence into new areas, and to acquire the assets for their own local publicity machine, our units must raise more money. For many, this will be done through expansion in the Distributist League, but there are many other ways to raise funds as well. Work is now beginning to make the literature distribution run more useful for this.

Successful fund-raising is really just a matter of attitude. If enough effort is put in, it is easy. It must be recognized that the Treasurer is the most important official in any unit. Without money, nothing can be achieved.

At a national level, the Technology Fund is at present the most important fund-raising effort. But units can also now time to take steps to spread the word to new areas. This will call for a strengthening of regional co-operation in Days of Action and the fostering of new units. A national Unit Development team is also being set up to identify and put work into the most promising places for new growth.

TO BE POPULAR

We do not have the resources to hope to raise the popularity of the NF throughout the whole of Britain. But it is within our power to improve our standing among groups which already tend to be sympathetic towards the Movement. Effort will therefore be directed to building on existing support, for example among youth, in Ulster, in the inner cities and the economically shattered north.

A renewed push for influence among the young through music will play an important part in this. But in future this too will be done on a truly principled basis, even if it hits short-term support. Every effort must be made through "White Noise" to root out the sordid and politically suicidal Nazi cult which has tainted the White music scene for some years.

We do not have the resources to improve greatly the NF's standing over a geographically wide area, but the Movement's experience in Community Action initiatives over the last year must be built on by every unit. This will give us solid local bases from which to expand in the future.

TO BE GROWING

This is largely a matter of organization. Far more effort is now needed on the education and practical commitment sides of the Cadre system. Cadres and candidates must understand that they are the essential "middle management" of the Movement. They must take every opportunity to find NFN Supporters who can take over their local positions, and in turn take more responsibility for regional and national operations.

Having spent the last year consolidating the National Revolutionary position in existing NF strongholds, it is

TECHNOLOGY

THE TECHNOLOGY FUND was launched in NFN in October 1986. Progress has been good, and a number of vital items have been acquired as a result. There has been a better response to this Fund than to any appeal for funds for nearly ten years. This shows that many readers understand just how important it is for the National Front to be at the forefront of the information technology revolution.

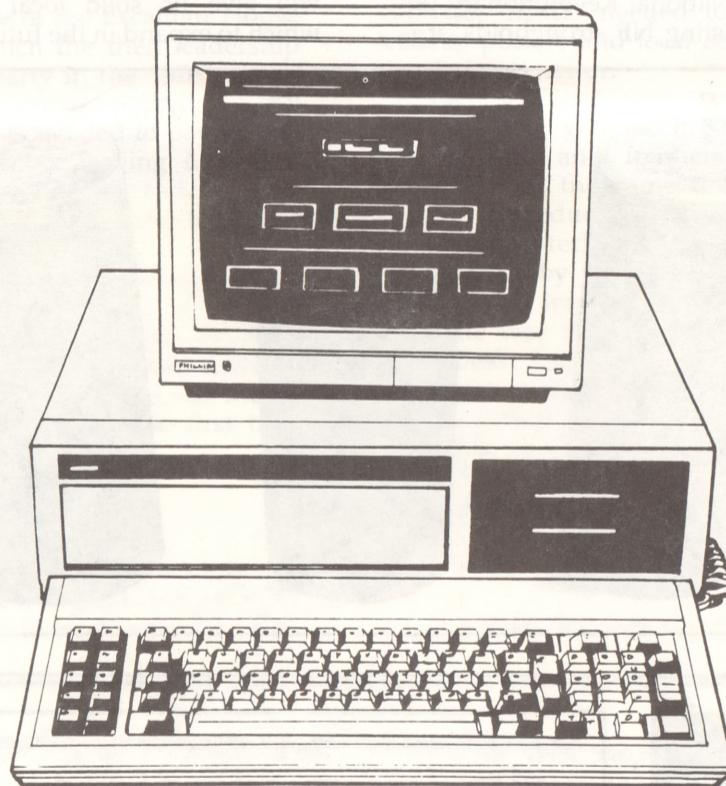

This major update shows what progress has been made, and where we must go from here. The importance of this campaign of asset acquisition cannot be overstressed. We must have the Technology of Tomorrow to build "The Movement of the Future."

SINCE our last update two issues ago, a splendid £162 has been received. This brings the total raised since the start of the appeal to £3,442.50. Donations since issue 98 have been received with sincere thanks from:

A.C. - Manchester - £10
 Liverpool Unit - £25
 D.M. - Staffs - £20
 A.M. - Ulster - £10
 D.L. - Coventry - £5
 B.H. - Cambridge - £7
 G.K. - Hants - £25
 Miss S Barrett - London SW - £20
 Leeds NFNs/FOMs - £35
 A.W. - Keighley - £5

The items purchased so far have cost as follows:

2 Amstrad 1512 double disk drive computers	£1446
2 self-correcting electric typewriters	£ 800
4 walkie-talkie radios	£ 140
Overhead projector for training lectures, etc	£ 200
Security equipment	£ 80
Answer phone for Contact Line	£ 150
Daisy wheel printer for Apricot computer	£ 150
First modem plus communications software	£ 220
Total cost of assets bought so far	£ 3,186.

This leaves us at present with a useful £256.50 in the Fund for the next stage of our programme. In addition, we are now able to add £2,000 towards it from the cash received from the Official Receiver from Excalibur House.

So all in all the National Front has raised a total of £5,442.50 - well over half the extremely ambitious £10,000 target set just 14 months ago.

The largest single item listed in the original appeal was a sophisticated photocopier capable of doing the reduction work needed when NFN and booklets such as Attempted Murder were produced with the old Apricot computer and a daisy wheel printer. This alone would have cost £3,000. But the rapid advance of the technology of computer typesetting has now made this and several of the smaller items obsolete as far as the NF is concerned.

What the Movement urgently needs is to move straight into the latest Fleet Street style system known as Desk Top Publishing. It combines word processing (i.e. writing articles straight into a computer), with equipment allowing pages to be laid out on screen and then printed out in their finished form on a laser printer.

This cuts out the big typesetting bills still needed up until now for top quality publications, and saves many hours of staff time by cutting out most of the labourious work of "pasting up" the pages before they are sent to be printed.

PERFECT FIT

Our existing equipment will fit into such a system perfectly, but we need a range of additional items: a hard disk drive computer with a massive memory; an extra large monitor for page layout; a laser printer, and an image scanner to allow the input of typewritten text and artwork. Together with the software programmes needed to run all this, and the extra telephone modems which we will still need to link our whole network together, the whole lot will cost around £7,000.

The final price will depend on exactly which of the many systems we settle for, and on how much cash we can put down as an initial lump sum, but our target of £10,000 is still very close to what is needed.

Having already spent £3,186, and raised a further £2,256.50, there is still £4,558.50 which must be found as a matter of urgency. The present system is far more expensive to use and still involves us relying on factors outside our control for the production of our publicity material to tight schedules. This must change.

Equipping the NF News production team, and in fact the whole Propaganda Department, with technology which would have been the envy of Fleet Street just five years ago, is not a dream. It is an essential step on the road to real influence and power, and it is well within the Movement's ability.

But if it is to happen as quickly as is needed, every member, supporter and reader of the paper must do something to help.

This twelve page special is only possible because of the computerization which has already taken place, thanks largely to the generosity of our readers.

But it also involved the volunteer editorial and production team working right over the Yuletide period, including Christmas Day, Boxing Day and New Year's Eve. All those involved think that bringing out this special 100th issue right at the start of the year made the effort worthwhile, but they also feel entitled to ask those who were able to relax and take a few days off during the festivities to make a simple one-off financial sacrifice as their way of helping to build National Front News - "The True Voice of Britain."

Please use the form to send as much as you can afford. Even small amounts add up quickly when enough people make the effort. We would also be grateful if readers, even those who cannot afford to help at present, would complete the short questionnaire on the form and send it in. Readers' responses are essential if the paper is to keep in touch with the grass roots, reflecting as well as forming Nationalist opinion in Britain and Europe. If you don't want to cut up your NF News, take a photocopy or just write your answers to each question number on a sheet of paper. Thank you for your assistance.

NATIONALISM NOT IMPERIALISM

THE NATIONAL FRONT accepts that many people in Britain are deeply stirred by the history and traditions associated with the Union Jack. We too are proud of many of the deeds of daring and heroism done by our forebears under that flag, but we also believe that its connections with City of London imperialism and the suppression of true nationalism from Cymru to Egypt, and from Eire to Australia, make it totally unsuitable as the banner of the National Revolutionary Movement.

It has therefore been replaced on our front page by the far older flags of the nations to which, if we go back to our roots as nationalists must, our peoples owe their allegiance. We do not believe that there is such a thing as "the British nation." Britain is a Family of Nations. Accordingly, we display with pride the banners of England, Scotland, Cymru and the future flag of Ulster.

It is a sad mark of the hatreds created by the old imperialism that we cannot use any existing emblem to symbolize the contribution of the Irish to the history and population of our islands. Instead we use the general term "Celtia" to show that we have not forgotten the nations which once thr ived in Cornwall, the Isle of Man and Gaelic Scotland, and in anticipation of the time when the two nations living in Ireland are at peace and when Eire voluntarily rejoins the British Family of Nations.

POWERFUL SYMBOL

Our masthead gives pride of place to the Celtic Cross. This powerful symbol arose from a fusion of Christianity with the native pagan traditions of our peoples. It rose again in honour of the Flower of our Youth on thousands of war memorials. And it has now become the design recognized by all National Revolutionaries in Europe. It is a symbol of our common determination to avoid another tragic European Brothers' War - and to end the domination of our lands by Soviet tanks and Wall Street banks.

Finally, we use green to show our commitment to the principles of Ecology and Distributism. Because Nationalism is based on a love of life, nature and the eternal land. And because it symbolizes a Third Way between the blood red of brutal Communism and the black night of Capitalist greed.

THIS PHOTO-FEATURE celebrates the 100th issue of National Front News by looking at its development over the years.

NFN was founded in February 1976, to give the National Front its own mouthpiece, so that it did not have to rely on privately owned publications. The new paper was just four pages long. It stayed that size until 1984, when it expanded to six pages and then eight, finally reaching its present ten pages after its conversion into a truly National Revolutionary paper at the start of last year.

In the first year, it appeared just eight times. For some years such infrequency was the norm, in fact in 1979 there were only five issues. This was in spite of the fact that all the typesetting and paste-up work was done commercially by outsiders – which meant that the four page broadsheet ran at a loss. It made regular sales difficult to establish, though stalwarts like those shown here worked hard to do so.

Last year, by contrast, all the preparation work was done internally, except for one stage of the process. And NF News appeared 18 times. The finest achievement in this regard was the production of two issues, with different slip-sheets, to spearhead the NF's "Don't Vote" campaign during the 1987 General Election.

These improvements must continue, but they already make it possible for NFN to agitate and organize for the Nationalist cause, rather than reporting out-of-date news stories.

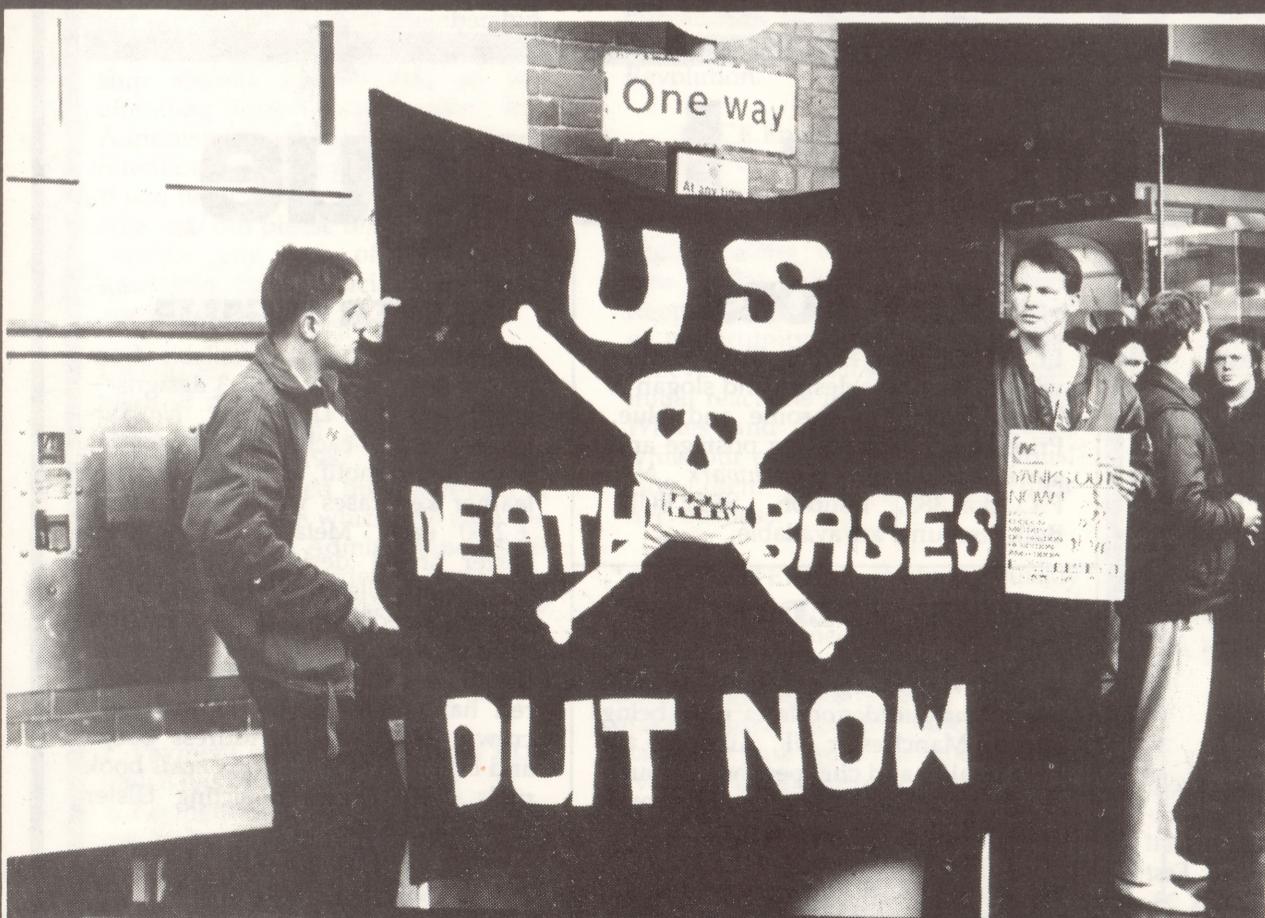

WIDENING SCOPE

Hand in hand with technical improvements has gone a widening in the scope of areas covered. With the notable exception of issue one, the first years of the paper dealt with race and little else, except for the vicious attacks launched by Marxists against marches held to get publicity at any price, such as the one in Leicester in 1979 pictured here.

This failure to take its readers beyond a single protest issue was the old NFN's biggest mistake. For when Thatcher played the anti-immigrant card in the '79 election, there was nothing to stop our supporters deserting en masse to the Tories.

Regular readers will know that the NF now uses smaller but more intelligent and militant groups of activists to campaign on many other issues, including Independence for Ulster and the vital drive to rid Britain of foreign military bases. And that NF News now aims to educate, rather than pander to prejudice.

THE WORST aspect of the paper's early coverage of the Race issue was that it was purely negative, calculated to appeal to the lowest possible common denominator in a population brought up on the Sun. It was inevitable that such negative propaganda would recruit negative people, who just as inevitably disrupted the image and organization of the Movement.

Improvements in this area began to be seen in articles in the NF's theoretical journals from 1980 onwards, but were slow to affect NFN. Crude racism continued to discredit the paper until the expulsion of the last reactionary elements in the summer of 1986.

Since then, NF News has never pulled its punches on the question of immigration. But it has dealt with the subject in a principled and positive way. We have identified much common ground with Blacks and Asians who, like us, want to preserve their own racial and cultural identities. We have repeatedly expressed our willingness to work with racialists of other colours to bring an end to the evil multi-racist state which forces our peoples to mix against their will.

Central to this has been the campaign to expose the State's hypocrisy in banning the American Black separatist, Minister Louis Farrakhan (pictured here) from coming to Britain with his message that racial integration is a capitalist hoax.

BECOME A FRIEND OF THE MOVEMENT

BRITAIN'S once beautiful countryside is being destroyed by industrial pollution and unhealthy 'get rich quick' farming techniques. What sort of environment are our children going to inherit?

This destruction is the inevitable result of a System which has made material wealth its God and instant profit its only morality. Only the National Front stands for a return to the spiritual health and economic sanity which can save our land.

F.O.M.

Yes! I'm prepared to back up the sacrifice of the NF's activists by doing something to change things for the better.

SMALL IS BEAUTIFUL!

A wide range of the best thinkers and authors in the English language have in recent years published works which mirror many aspects of Revolutionary Nationalist thought.

Nowhere is this more true than in the area known broadly as 'Green.'

The books advertized here all fit into that category and are well worth reading. They are a bit more expensive than most of our stock, but why not treat a friend, relative - or yourself - for Christmas?

Small Is Beautiful. Schumacher.

In addressing himself to the plight and benefits of small businesses, Schumacher spoke to millions and coined a deservedly famous phrase.

£3.50 incl. p&p. Sb.

Good Work. Schumacher.

The author asks a vital question: what is the purpose of our work? He gives three answers: to produce necessary, useful goods; to enable us to use and perfect our skills, and, finally, to serve and cooperate with others in order to liberate ourselves from our inborn egocentricity. Thought provoking.

£7 incl. p&p. Hb.

Small Is Possible. George McRobie.

This book offers proof that in a wide range of human activities - in agriculture, industry and health care - for example; "small" is indeed possible. It details technologies and systems which have been devised on a human scale, are low in cost, sparing in their use of raw materials, and protective of nature.

£10 incl. p&p. Hb.

Back to the Land. Jan Marsh.

"Even as it happened, the transformation of England from an economy based on agriculture to one based on industry and commerce was being questioned. As the population of the new industrial centres increased, so did the problems of disease, squalor and poverty. By 1880, when industrialization had spread so far as to appear irreversible and the rural population was rapidly declining, the Back-to-the-Land movement began to pervade all areas of life and thought." A fascinating and wide-ranging book on the strong anti-urban feeling in our intellectual tradition.

£15 incl. p&p. Hb.

Green Politics. Capra and Spretnak.

The authors outline, incisively and clearly, the problems and issues before the Greens and show their relevance to the wider world.

George Seawright: Hero & Martyr

GEORGE SEAWRIGHT was one of the most controversial political figures in Ulster. In his short political career he made many enemies and received numerous death threats. Sadly, those threats were carried out on November 19th 1987 when he was cruelly shot in the back of the head by a murder squad from the Marxist-Leninist "Irish People's Liberation Organization" – a particularly vicious offshoot of the INLA. George lingered in a critically ill state in hospital for a fortnight before losing his final fight on December 3rd.

The coverage of George's shooting on the ITN and BBC news networks gave the strong impression that he only got what he deserved. Who was George Seawright and why did he die?

George Seawright was born in Glasgow of Ulster stock. He worked in the Belfast shipyard until his election to the Northern Ireland Assembly in 1982. He was married with three children and lived in a maisonette in the staunchly loyalist Glencairn Estate. His fiery platform manner soon won him a strong following and he was elected to Belfast City Council in 1981 as a DUP member. His outspokenness and strong sense of Social Justice won him many enemies in both Republican and Unionist circles. He was much criticized for giving an interview to Nationalism Today in which he applauded the NF, not only for its vigorous support of Ulster's Cause, but for its policy on race, immigration and social welfare. Typically, he ignored his critics and maintained good relations with the NF until his death.

In 1984 he shot to notoriety over allegedly anti-Catholic remarks he was said to have made at a meeting of the Belfast Education and Library Board. That year he was also strongly criticized when he led a group of people who removed a Republican flag from a council leisure centre shortly after it had been erected by Sinn Fein. He was disowned and expelled from the DUP, but undeterred he regained his council seat as an independent candidate in 1985. He became a strong critic of the sell out tactics and policies of the Paisley/Molyneaux Unionist Establishment, especially in their ineffectual 'campaign' against the Anglo-Irish Agreement.

In October 1986 he was sentenced to nine months in Magilligan Prison for his opposition to Tom King's visit to Belfast City Hall. This caused him to lose his City Council seat. In a letter from prison to a member of the NF's Central Ulster Executive, he wrote:

"I came to the conclusion a long time ago that you could not be a career politician and a patriot at the same time. I believe that career politicians whose prime objective is to gain and hold political office within the Establishment are the enemies of true patriotism, as true patriotism puts the welfare and destiny of her people before personal gain and political advantage. I notice that another Sunday rag spoke of my political career as being "in ruins" as I lose my council seat through this prison sentence. My response to that is – so what? So long as I never lose my loyalist convictions. Indeed, they must be crazy if they think that by removing my freedom they could also remove my loyalist conviction."

Unlike Paisley, Robinson, Molyneaux and the rest of their ilk, George sacrificed his political career and his freedom for the Cause of Ulster's liberty. In the end he paid for his conviction with his life. Once he somewhat cynically stated that if he was ever murdered, there would be a very big funeral for him but then he would be quickly forgotten. This need not be so! REMEMBER SEAWRIGHT should be our inspirational motto in the years of struggle that lie ahead. George Seawright, true patriot, loyalist, Christian martyr and friend I salute your memory. From sacrifice comes victory!

The National Front offers its sincere condolences to Elizabeth on the death of her husband and to Joanne, Craig and Sarah on the death of their daddy.

"O Lord, for I am thy servant: I am thy servant, and the son of thy handmaid. Thou hast broken my bonds."
